Dr. William LaRue Jones - Conductor

About the Conductor

Dr. William LaRue Jones is one of the most active and versatile symphonic conductors in the United States today. He possesses the unique quality and ability to be equally effective with professional or amateur orchestras. Averaging more than 100 concerts a year, Dr. Jones appears with a wide array of professional, collegiate and festival ensembles throughout North and Central America, Europe and Asia. His skill as a conducting teacher has led him to be the founding artistic director of The Orchestral Institute and University Conductor’s Workshop, which is filled to capacity each year and has achieved critical acclaim.

As founding music director/administrator of Greater Twin Cities’ Youth Symphonies, Dr. Jones established a multiple orchestra structure that has become an international model for youth orchestras. Serving more than 1,000 talented youth each year, it is the largest structure of its kind worldwide. He has also conducted All-State orchestras in more than 40 states.

Dr. Jones holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin, the University of Iowa and Kansas State University, with additional studies completed at the Juilliard School of Music and North Texas State.

About the Composer

Robert Charles Howard is on the music faculty of St. Louis Community College-Meramec, where he teaches music theory and conducts the Meramec Symphony Orchestra. His compositions have been performed by the St. Louis Symphony, Webster Symphony, Kirkwood Symphony, Belleville Philharmonic and many professional chamber ensembles.

Mr. Howard’s compositions for student groups have been performed by the CASA Young Person’s Orchestra, the Meramec Symphonic Band, Southwest Missouri University Symphonic Winds, as well as high school and junior high orchestras throughout Missouri and other states.

The Golden Circle for string orchestra was commissioned by the Parkway South High School Orchestra for its appearance at the MMEA convention. In addition to his activities as a composer and teacher, he is an active conductor and adjudicator, and has given lectures on composition at the MMEA convention.

Dr. Janet Galván - Conductor
Lorie Francis - Piano

About the Conductor
Dr. Janet Galván is Professor of Music at Ithaca College, conducts the Ithaca College Women's Chorale and is artistic director for the Ithaca Children's Choir. Dr. Galván has prepared choirs for many conductors, including Lukas Foss, Carl St. Clair, Eiji Oue, Giselle Bencer, Doreen Rao and Grant Llewellyn. Her contribution to choral music was recognized by her New York colleagues in 1995 when she was presented the New York Outstanding Choral Director Award.

As a guest conductor, Dr. Galván has conducted all-state and regional choral festivals across the country, working with singers of all ages, children through adults. She conducted the first American Choral Directors Association Western Division Honors Choir in 1996, the first college/university Women's Honors Choir at the Eastern Division ACDA Conference in Washington, D.C., in February 1994, and the ACDA National Children's Honors Choir in March 1995. Dr. Galván has conducted consortiums of choirs at the ACDA Southern Division convention in 1996 and at Carnegie Hall in 1995 and 1996, with two scheduled appearances again in 1997. Her own choral groups have been chosen to perform at national, regional and state professional music conferences, as well as many invitational choral festivals.

As a member of the artistic staff of the Choral Music Experience, founded by Dr. Doreen Rao, Dr. Galván teaches conducting masterclasses at the CME Institute and has become a teacher and mentor of conductors around the world. Her expertise in treble choral music and innovative programming led to her association with Roger Dean Publishing Company and its development of the Janet Galván Women's Choir Series.
