About the Conductor

Colonel John R. Bourgeois, USMC (retired), served as the 25th Director of "The President's Own" United States Marine Band. During his nearly 40 years with the Marine Band, Colonel Bourgeois served nine presidential administrations - from presidents Eisenhower to Clinton. A native of Louisiana, Colonel Bourgeois is a graduate of Loyola Univeristy in New Orleans. He joined "The President's Own" in 1958 as a French Hornist and arranger. He was named Assitant Director in 1974, Director in 1979, and was promoted to Colonel in 1983. He retired in 1996.

Colonel Bourgeois is the Past-President of the American Bandmasters Association, Chairman of the Board and Past-President of the National Band Association, a past member of the Board of Directors of the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles, the American Vice-President of the International Military Music Society, and the President of the John Philip Sousa Foundation. He has received numerous recognitions and awards, including Phi Beta Mu's Outstanding Bandmaster Award, Kappa Kappa Psi's Distinguished Service to Music Award, the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic's Medal of Honor, and the International Granger Society's Grainger Medallion. About the Conductor

David Barg is a leader of young ensembles and a teacher of conductors. In addition to his professional development workshops and clinics, David conducts All-District and All-State orchestras, bands and choruses around the country and abroad. January of last year, he led the Indiana and Ohio All-State Orchestras in symphonies of Shostakovich and Mahler.

An active Cultural Ambassador for the United States Information Agency in South America, David has also appeared at festivals of contemporary music in Russia and directed concerts by the Moscow Radio and TV and the St. Petersburg "Klassika" State Orchestras. He has led master classes for conducting students at the Moscow Conservatory College, the St. Petersburg Conservatory, and the Herzen Pedagogical University, where he is a visiting professor. He studied conducting with David Gilbert and at the Tanglewood Conductors Institute. David was conductor of L'Orchestra in the Berkshires and Youth L'Orchestra for seven years, and has been a frequent guest conductor of the Seniors Orchestra of New York.

David has worked with young ensembles in Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington DC, Houston, Las Vegas, Annapolis, Baltimore, Tulsa, Kansas City, and elsewhere. In Australia, he is a frequent guest conductor of the Sydney Youth Orchestra, and has led workshops for band, orchestra, and choral conductors under the auspices of the Australian Band and Orchestra Directors Association, the New South Wales Department of Education, the University of Sydney, and the Orange Regional Conservatorium. He was recently named Visiting Professor at the Sydney University Conservatorium of Music.

David has taught accredited workshops for school ensemble leaders sponsored by such organizations as the Atlanta, Baltimore, Buffalo, Duluth, Houston, Kansas City and Washington, DC Boards of Education; various State Music Educators Associations, the Metropolitan Opera Guild and many others.

The Dana Foundation has, for three consecutive years, underwritten the development and delivery of his Whole Person Method of leading school ensembles. The Method is the basis of his professional development work, which is available to schools around the country on the Arts4All educational website and, in the near future, at ArtsLag.org. His Whole Person Method Workbook of effective conducting and rehearsing school ensembles will be published in 2006. The NYC Department of Education has contracted his services for music staff professional development workshops and consultancies through the city.

David received his BA from Columbia University in Art History and Languages, and did graduate work in flute performance at Temple University. He studied with Jean-Pierre Rampal at the Paris Conservatory, and was principal flutist of the Bolshoi Ballet during its American tours; the Festival Les Arcs in France, the Philadelphia Opera Company, the Caramoor Music Festival Orchestra, and the Orchestra of Our Time in New York, among others. He is the former Director of the Kardon Branch of the Settlement Music School in Philadelphia and the Lucy Moses School for Music in Dance in New York.

About the Commissioned Work

Michael McLean received his B.M. in Violin Performance from Northwestern University where he studied violin, composition, counterpoint, and orchestration. He taught at the Music Center of the North Shore in the Chicago area and was Adjunct Professor of Violin at Texas Christian University from 1994-1997. Michael McLean has taught throughout the country as a guest clinician at workshops and institutes. Mr. McLean is also founder and president of Oak Cliff Publishing, which features his compositions and arrangements for strings and piano. He has composed for numerous ensembles throughout the world, including a special commission for a performance at the Vatican for Pope John Paul II. He composed his first Concerto "Elements" for violin and string orchestra which was recently performed by Brian Lewis last summer in Taiwan. Lewis' recording of his "Elements" is expected to be released in the near future. His CD "Care to Tango?" was released in July of 1997 and was an instant success. The recording has been heard on National Public Radio as well as WFMT of Chicago. Mr. McLean currently resides in Los Angeles and is pursuing a career in film music.

Ellen Rowe - Conductor

About the Conductor

Ellen Rowe has been described as "that rare 'triple threat' of pianist, composer-arranger, and teacher." Ms. Rowe has performed at various jazz clubs and concert halls throughout the United States and has toured many parts of Europe and Australia. In addition to leading her own trio and quartet, she is in great demand as a sideman, performing with a variety of artists including Kenny Wheeler, Ingrid Jensen, John Clayton, Tom Harrell and Jiggs Whigham. In keeping with the eclectic nature of her earliest musical influences, Ms. Rowe also continues to play classically, performing with the University of Michigan Wind Ensemble. Her compositions and arrangements have been performed and recorded by a wide variety of jazz ensembles and orchestras around the world. Born in Ridgefield, Connecticut to musician parents, Ms. Rowe began playing the piano by ear when she was four. Ms. Rowe is currently on the faculty of the University of Michigan School of Music, where she is Associate Professor of Jazz Piano and directs the University of Michigan Jazz Ensemble. Her music resounds at once with melodic depth and compelling intensity, defining Ellen Rowe as a formidable talent poised to take her place among the top jazz artists of today.

About the Commissioned Work

"Bistro Latino" is an authentic Latin piece written by Jeff Jarvis, CEO of Kendor Music, Inc. The Chart is named after a popular Latin dance club and restaurant in New York City. The opening dynamic tutti section was used as a portion of the All State Jazz Ensemble audition process this year. As in most of Jarvis's offerings, frequent articulations and dynamics are provided for the horns and the rhythm parts are an integral part of the arrangement, not merely an afterthought.
